The Zen-like style of Ihab and Yasmin Nayal's living room serves to create a contemporary space apt for unwinding and reclining in. "I'm a bit of a minimalist," confesses Ihab, revealing that their desire was to fashion a loft-like space that wasn't overly designed. Utilising his talents as an architect and drawing inspiration from a recent holiday to Japan, Ihab and Yasmin transformed their living area into a refreshingly chic space.

Style advice

Zen Interiors is home to a range of unsurprisingly Zen-like furniture. Clean lines and boldly etched bamboo designs dominate their furnishings and provide a clear step to achieving this minimally cool look.

Nikki and Lance Leonhardt's living room is a stunningly vibrant and relaxing space. Taking her inspiration from its Dubai Marina location, interior designer Nikki, selected a soft turquoise tone for the walls by the window, mirroring the colour of the marina and then accentuated the water/wave theme with textured ripple wallpaper and translucent window treatments. Combined with an eye-catching and reflective silver wall, the overall effect is simply gorgeous.

Style advice

Contacting Nikki at her interior design firm Nikki B Interiors would be a good place to start with tips and hints or for a full interior design consultancy. And to replicate those dazzling wall treatments look to the likes of Hamadeh & Co. and Muraspec.

Nikki and Lance Leonhardt's bedroom is resplendent in its Moroccan style. Utilising two of Nikki's favourite colours in the deep green and purple, the room is also home to a textured gold wall, all of which creates a deliciously rich and enticing colour scheme. Accessories including the chandelier, gold lanterns and tasselled tiebacks provide additional interest and serve to emphasise the Moroccan theme of the room.

Style advice

If you're favouring the Moroccan look, head to Casa Marrakesh (in Fitz & Simons) and Moroccan Treasures Trading for beautiful lanterns and fabrics.

Be inspired by the natural environment around you and transform your sleeping area into a scene from Arabian nights. Opt for earthy natural materials in shades of sand, cream and beige, and select a canopied four-poster bed for a desert style twist. Accessorise with natural tan bedside cabinets, ceramic vases and embroidered cushions and throws for a delightfully dreamy Middle Eastern bedroom.

Style advice

Opt for natural materials in subtle tones and search out arresting four-poster beds with an Arabian feel from Nakkash Gallery.
